OPTICAL DISPENSING

For

ACOD Students

Introduction:

One of the functions of the Optometrists and Dispensing Opticians Board of New Zealand under the Health Practitioner Competency Assurance Act 2003 (HPCA Act) is to authorise the registration of dispensing opticians. The purpose of the HPCA Act is to protect the health and safety of members of the public by providing for mechanisms to ensure that health practitioners are competent and fit to practice their professions. The Board may register an applicant within a scope of practice if the applicant is fit for registration, and has the qualifications that have been prescribed for the scope of practice

Registration requirements:

Scope of practice for optical dispensing (dispensing optician):

Optical dispensing describes the practice of the interpreting and dispensing of optical prescriptions by a person with a recognised qualification. This includes the giving of advice and instruction in the dispensing of spectacle lenses, spectacle frames (including their fitting), contact lenses, and any other optical device intended for correction of a defect of sight.

Qualifications

The Board has adopted certain qualifications as the required level of education for optical dispensing in New Zealand. Approved courses from New Zealand are:

1. OTEN/TAFE NSW Certificate IV in Optical Dispensing awarded by the New South Wales Technical and Further Education Commission (TAFE) is a correspondence course conducted by Open Technical Education Network (OTEN) being the remote learning division of the New South Wales Technical and Further Education Commission.
2. RMIT Certificate IV in Optical Dispensing awarded by the Royal Melbourne Institute of Technology, Melbourne, Australia, is a correspondence course with online and work based study components. The practical aspects of the course are conducted in New Zealand for Luxottica students by NZ registered practitioners supplemented by staff from RMIT and in Melbourne by RMIT staff for all other students.
3. ACOD Certificate IV in Optical Dispensing awarded by the Australasian College of Optical Dispensing (ACOD) is a correspondence course with online and work based study components. The theory component is covered online and the practical components of the course are covered and assessed by OPTIBLOCKS, a body established by the Association of Dispensing Opticians of New Zealand Inc. in conjunction with ACOD and are conducted in dedicated training rooms at the New Zealand OptiBlocks site in Auckland.

Dispensing Opticians in New Zealand complete their training by participating in any of the above courses.

The Board has set an additional pre-registration requirement for students completing either of these courses. This “book” is a documented record of training. It is a requirement of registration that this record be completed and submitted with the registration application.

It is also a requirement of registration that students complete 800 hours of practical experience and training under the supervision of a dispensing optician or optometrist who has been registered for at least two years and who holds a current APC.

Instructions for completion of Record of Training

Completion of the record of training should not commence until the following units and/or part units have been completed. Please refer to your education providers’ official documentation and note the month and the year of completion on the relevant table below.

ACOD Students must complete all of the following workshops before beginning to log hours in their Record of Training:

Workshop	Date Completed
Workshop 1
Workshop 3

This ROT must be completed within two years following the date of eligibility to graduate (found on the final transcript of educational achievement as issued by your course provider).

The 800 hours of experience and training should be time spent in the practice of Optical Dispensing and related tasks as detailed in this Record of Training.

The Board recognises that learning does not stop once the course is completed, but that the development of a dispensing optician’s knowledge is ongoing through practical experience and with the advice and support of peers. This ROT is a formal way of recognising this process.
